

FINGER PRINTS GOOD AS NAME TO FIX IDENTITY

Magistrate Holds Alleged Burglar on Testimony That They Remain the Same for Life.

Charles Crisp, who was arrested yesterday by detectives of the Central office as the person who committed a burglary on the night of Feb. 22 at No. 171 Wooster street, and whose arrest followed identification of finger prints found upon a pane of glass, was held in $5,000 bail for trial before the Court of General Sessions this morning in the Jefferson Market Court by Magistrate Corrigan.

Lieut. Joseph Faurot of the bureau of finger-print identification said the finger prints upon the pane of glass were unmistakably those of Crisp. He said that in the five years he has given the subject of finger-print identification his attention he has not yet found a single case where two finger prints resembled each other an iota fact that the prints upon the pane of glass and the reproductions of Crisp's finger prints taken by him before he served two years in Sing Sing in 1907 for burglary, resembled in thirty-four distinct points, was conclusive evidence that it was he who committed the burglary.

He was asked if a person's fingers changed as they grew older, by Attorney Murray for the defense. He replied that there was absolutely no change in the pattern of a person's fingers between three months before birth and death. He added that no change ever occurred to the fingers by which a man of fifty could not be identified by finger prints taken when he was a baby.

He was asked if a healthy man contracted consumption and wasted away, whether, in this case, identification would be impossible.

"Certainly not," replied Lieut. Faurot. "I have had cases during my own experience where persons have been identified by finger prints even after death."

Lieut. Faurot further said he was confident that the finger prints upon the glass were made within twenty-four hours before he examined them. He said this fact was ascertained by the evaporation of the greasy matter in the print.

Magistrate Corrigan asked Assistant District Attorney Breckenridge, who represented the prosecution, if he thought the evidence represented was sufficient to hold Crisp for trial before a jury. "I certainly do," responded Breckenridge. "I am just as convinced of the fact that he was there as if he had left his name and address."

BIG "MELD" FIRED GUN.

Excited Player Pushed Weapon Off Table and Opponent Was Shot.

Michael Frank, who runs an all-night cigar store at No. 248 East Houston street, was accidentally shot early today when playing a card game in the rear of his store with William Clark of No. 67 Avenue C, and several others. He unpacked his revolver and laid it on the table.

In the enthusiasm of a big "meld" Clark pushed the gun off the table. As it struck the floor it was discharged and the bullet struck Frank's right ankle. He was taken to Gouverneur Hospital, where it was found the injury was slight.
